PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

On November 28, 2007, at approximately 5:45 A.M., Border Patrol dispatch advised agents of a seismic sensor activation near the area commonly known as Campo's Ditch. This area is approximately three miles west of the San Ysidro, California, Port of Entry and 150 yards north of the United States/Mexico International Border. Border Patrol Agent L. Dithrich responded to the area. After a brief search, he found two individuals hiding in brush. Agent Dithrich identified himself as a Border Patrol Agent and conducted an immigration inspection. Both individuals, including one later identified as the defendant Rafael ARAUJO-Barrera, admitted to being a citizen and national of Mexico illegally in the United States. They further admitted that they did not possess any documents that would allow them to legally enter or remain in the United States. Agent Dithrich arrested both individuals and they were transported to the Imperial Beach Border Patrol Station for processing.

Routine record checks of the defendant revealed a criminal and immigration history. The defendant's record was determined by a comparison of his criminal record and the defendant's current fingerprint card. Official immigration records of the Department of Homeland Security revealed the defendant was previously deported to Mexico on July 5, 2005 through the Port of Entry at Calexico, California. These same records show that the defendant has not applied for permission from the Attorney General of the United States or his designated successor, the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security, to return to the United States after being removed.

Agent Dithrich advised ARAUJO of his Miranda Rights. ARAUJO said that he understood these rights and was willing to answer questions without the presence of an attorney. ARAUJO stated that he illegally jumped the United States/Mexico International Boundary fence. When again asked if he had any immigration documents in his possession that would allow him to legally enter into or be in the United States, he said, "No."
